VOL. CXXXVI.—No. 87. ALEXANDRIA, VIRGINIA, SATURDAY, APRIL 10, 1920. PRICE TWO CENTS

SWANSON DELIVERS ORATION ON MARTIN

Colleague of Late Senator Delivers Fitting Tribute

HIS LIFE SACRIFICE

Heavy Burdens and Weighty Responsibilities Placed Upon Him More Than His Strength Could Bear.

Twelve Senators today paid tribute to the late Senator Thomas S. Martin, of Virginia, at a special memorial session of the Senate. The list of speakers selected for the occasion were associated for many years in the Senate with the distinguished Virginian. Senators Swanson and Glass were among the speakers. In the course of his eulogy Mr. Swanson said:

Mr. President, we have convened today to pay appropriate tribute to the life, character, and achievements of our former colleague, Senator Thomas S. Martin, of Virginia. Having been intimately associated with him for more than 30 years, I appreciate how inadequate are my powers of speech to give expression to the profound esteem, friendship, and admiration I entertained for him to properly to portray his manly worth and great nobility of character. Under the shadows of a deep personal loss and sorrow in his death, silence, if permissible to me, would have been far preferable to speech. I am fully sensible that in his death I have lost my best, dearest, and most intimate friend.

The people of Virginia passionately admired him as a rugged oak where they could seek refuge and shelter in hours of storm and stress. In his long service in the Senate he never shirked a roll call nor dodged an issue. His conclusions were reached after the most thoughtful and careful consideration and when made were fearlessly expressed and firmly adhered to regardless of all personal and political consequences. He scorned by explanation or evasion to avoid full responsibility for any position ever assumed by him on public questions. He never acted hastily, and hence never apologized for his well formed and firm convictions. These he could always successfully defend with the most cogent and convincing reasons.

Scantor Martin was without exception the most indefatigable worker I ever knew. He was a marvel of industry and energy. He had no recreation except such as was obtained from varied but incessant work. Possessed of a splendid constitution, always working orderly and intelligently, the amount of work he could efficiently dispose of was prodigious. So great was his capacity for work tha he could attend to the smallest wishes of his constituency and still find ample time to study and dispose of the large public questions which his important position placed under his direciton. He had a genius for detail. He completely mastered all measures which were under his control in the Senate. His knowledge of them was excelled by none. The ease and facility with which he passed so many important measures through the Senate were largely due to the fact that the Senat had full confidence in his judgment and integrity, and knew he was fully informed upon all the details and phases of the legislation he proposed. It was wonderful the great mass of detail his memory was able clearly to retain. Combined with these admirable sterling qualities was a heart as loyal to every demand of friendship as ever pulsated in human breast. It can be said with equal truth of him, as was said of Old Hickory. President Jackson "he never failed a friend, he never forgot a favor."

Another quality which he possessed almost to heroic proportions was the composure with which he could meet unavoidable misfortunes. He bore his own worries and troubles without burdening others. His life was composed of sparkling sunshine and darkened shadows, each of which he passed through with calm courage. He knew his last illness would

STRIKERS TO MAKE TIE UP COMPLETE

Employees of All Roads Prepare for a Strike

WILL WALK OUT TODAY

Menace of Food Famine Causes Anxiety in New York—Prices Are Soaring

New York, April 10.—After a meeting of brotherhood members, employed on all railroads, including the Hudson Tube Company, at Jersey City, yesterday evening, the strikers said the tube motormen and guards will strike today.

A committee was appointed to formulate demands that will be presented for ratification at a meeting of the strikers todight.

It was said by the strikers that the tie-up of the railroad yards would be made complete by today. They declared a strike would tie up the Hudson tubes, upon which thousands of commuters depend. The prospect of a tube tie-up is more serious, because of the irregular service given by the New York-Jersey ferryboats, because of a strike of marine workers.

The striking yardmen have brought the methopolitan district face to face with a food famine. The men have apparently been swept out in a stampede that was without organization or leadership.

No demands have been presented to the railroads. Executives, watching helplessly while perishable freight piles up in the Jersey yards and along the lines, are entirely at sea as to where to look for a union authority

VICTIM OF PARALYSIS

Representative Kitchin Stricken During Speech Against Peace Resolution

Representative Claude Kitchin, of North Carolina, Democratic leader of the House, was stricken with paralysis yesterday just after delivering a speech against the Porter resolution declaring the war at an end. It was his second stroke.

At a late hour last night Dr. Louis J. Battle, Kitchin's family physician, declared his patient was resting easily, but admitted his condition was serious.

Kitchin suffered paralysis of the left side of the face and right arm and impaired vocal organs immediately after delivering an impassioned speech to Democrats in the House to stand united against the peace resolution. As he neared the end of his speech his voice fell to a whispr.

There were cries of "Louder, louder," but the stricken leader could not respond.

For a moment he swayed, then he stumbled into his seat, the papers he held in his hand fluttering into the aisle. Vainly he tried to pick them up, but his fingers wouldn't close on them. His lower jaw sagged, and his face turned purple.

Representative Pou, a colleague from North Carolina, hurried to him and asked what was the matter. Kitchin said he was exhausted.

Dr. Battle said last night that he has been treating Kitchin for six weeks for high blood pressure and had warned him against any excitement or overwork until pronounced cured.

About six weeks ago the patient suffered a very slight stroke.

PASTOR DONS OVERALLS

Peekskill, N. Y., April 10.—The Rev. Ellis Slipperly, pastor in three suburban Methodist Episcopal churches, today discarded his frock coat for a pair of overalls and began work as an apprentice pearl cutter in a local factory.

He announced he had resigned his pastorates because he "couldn't make both ends meet," and would confine his preaching to "relief work, which would not interfere with factory duties."

His salary as a pearl cutter, would be several hundred dollars a year more than his salary as a minister, he said.

COMMUNITY SERVICE SUMMER PLANS

Various Clubs Have Been Organized and Plays Produced

MASS MEETING SOON

Retail Merchants, City Health Department and City Engineer's Office to Help Make Campaign a Success.

Community Service program for the coming summer and fall in Alexandria is each day taking on more spirited and renewed interest. Miss Winans in charge of the local girls work has been busy forming clubs among the school girls in the different grades. The clubs are each designated by especially selected names.

The "Rainbows" are the girls of the second and third grades, the "Sunshine" club of the fourth and fifth, the "Double Six" the sixth and the "Light-foots" the seventh and a self-selected name for the eighth grade designated as the "Tin Cans". Many forms of recreation and activities have been features of all of these clubs and the latter named grade have produced their own play such as "Hiawatha," "Sun Goddess" etc., and many more productions are under consideration.

Another interesting and thriving organization emanating from Community Service activities is that known as the Mason-Dixon players consisting of upwards of fifty young men and ladies and this organization has already put on half a dozen successful musical and dramatic productions. The time is fully ripe now when the citizens of Alexandria should take a renewed interest in community affairs seeing that a tremendous start has been principally made by the younger element but should be participated in by the older people as well.

The large and spacious residence building at the corner of Duke and Royal street has been chosen as the center for Community Service activities and is admirably adapted for the purpose with it four stories, many large and commodious rooms which are to be fitted up suitably for the use of local organizations for meetings, rest-rooms, reading rooms and the large rooms on the first floor are especially well suited for the purpose of most any local function or gathering. the building being centrally located making it easily and quickly accessible for all purposes. A mass meeting is being arranged for some evening next week at which time expert Community workers will be on the speakers list and some of our own local people who are heartily in sympathy with the movement will present addresses upon the subject.

A later notice in the Gazette will be published for this meeting when it is arranged when and where the meeting will be held to which every citizen will be urged to attend.

CLEAN UP-DRESS UP WEEK APRIL 24-MAY 1

Annual Spring Cleaning Plans Being Prepared

CO-OPERATION OF ALL

Expert Community Workers Will Address Gathering One Night Next Week in Interest of the Movement

Clean up and dress up week will be launched the week of April 24 and ending May 1. This was determined upon at a meeting of the civic bureau of the chamber of commerce held last night in the rooms of that organization.

The clean up and dress up week will have the co-operation of the retail merchants, the city health department and the city engineer.

Plans for the activities during the week will be announced early next week. They will be in the hands of Dr. J. J. Garvey, deputy health offiver.

A general clean up of the city during the week designated is expected and efforts will be made by the health department to have all nuisances abated and unsanitary places made sanitary.

Those fostering the project are very enthuastic over the proposition and expect great good will be accomplished as a result of the work planned.

Two Children Also Injured When Express Crashes Into Auto

Pittsburgh, April 10.—Mrs. Sarah Colmey and her daughter were killed and two other children were seriously injured when an automobile in which they were riding was struck by a Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh passenger train at cemetery crossing of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, near Mars, Pa., yesterday morning.

It is presumed that Mrs. Colmey, who was driving the car, did not hear the train approaching. She and her children, ranging in age from 10 to 17 years, are of Tarentum, Pa.

STRIKERS CALL FOR PRAYER

Wheeling, W. Va., April 10.—Organized labor of Wheeling is making a serious attempt to introduce the doctrine of Christianity into industry. The teamsters of the city, who are on strike for a minimum wage of $24 a week, hold religious services each morning in their hall, conducted by a minister.

Recently the Ohio Valley Trades and Labor Assembly adopted a resolution to the effect that the teachings of Christ constitute a platform upon which all men can agree, and appointed a committee to decide what methods shall be pursued in applying them to modern industrial problems.

THE COMING FIGHT FOR DISTRICT ATTORNEY APRIL 15.

A record vote is looked for. The out come of the race will be known on Thursday, April 15, at 8.15 p. m., when St. Mary's Dramatic Club produces the four act comedy "the Village Lawyer" in Lyceum Hall in Duke street.

PRACTICE TOMORROW

Cardinals Have Some Crack Players On Team This Season

The Cardinal Athletic Club baseball team will practice on the Alexandria High School grounds Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, permission having been granted Sylvester A. Breen, president of the Cardinals, to use these grounds, by the authorities in charge of same for athletics and baseball games.

The "true-as-steel" Alexandria lads, who refused to quit the Cardinals, are deserving of the highest praise for their loyalty to a man who has always been their friend and who has for many years worked hard for their best interests, and has also been successful in winning different championship contests in athletic events.

In the Cardinals line-up this season will be seen a bunch of high-class collegian baseball players who have been instructed in the art of playing baseball by experienced university coaches, included in the list are several star pitchers well able to do their bit in winning games by pitching and they are fine batters as well.

It is the purpose of the Cardinals to give the fans of Alexandria high grade baseball games during the season, and games have been arranged with strong baseball, teams.

It has been reported that the Cardinal baseball team was dead, but such report was an error, for the "Old Birds" are very much alive and can flap their wings and fly as fast as they ever could in years gone by.

JOHHNY J. JONES EXPOSITION

Praised by Press as Being Among Cleanest and Best Attractions On The Road

The Johnny J. Jones Exposition, a splendid aggregation of shows is coming to Alexandria for one week April 19-26. The show grounds will be at Baggett's Field King Street. It takes forty cars to carry the attractions of the Johnny J. Jones Joy Plaza. Wherever these attractions have been the press has been loud in their praise. Very few shows get boosts in editorial columns, but the Johnny J. Jones Exposition is an exception to the rule.

The Memphis News- Scimeter says editorially: "That it pays to eliminate the lewd and suggestive from all his attractions is demonstrated by the fact that following such a policy has placed him today as the sole owner of the largest outdoor amusement enterprise in the world."

The Nashville American says editorially: "Admitting that the editorial column is not the customary position in which to say things of this sort, but with the permission of our regular show critic permit an humble editorial writer to say that the Johnny J. Jones Exposition seen here last week at our State Fair Exhibition is something really worth while.'"

The Milwaukee Sentinel says: "The average outdoor so-called carnival, as presented here in Milwaukee of late years, has been of such character that only the tastes of the morbidly inclined would be appeased, and in view of that fact, it was only after much solicitation on the part of Ed K. Salter, that king-pin of publicity men, that induced the writer to attend Johnny J. Jones' Exposition last evening. The really outstanding feature of the Johnny J. Jones aggregation is the absolute cleanliness as well as meritorious nature of each individual attraction. And the massiveness of the enterprise also gave cause for thought.

The entire outfit is simply stupendous in its variety of entertainment and a most noticeable feature was the absence of all boisterous conduct and the presence of women and children unattended by male escorts.

SENATOR SWANSON'S ORATION

Extracts from Senator Claude A. Swanson's oration on the late Senator Thomas S. Martin will be found on the first page of the Gazette. We regret that we have not the space to print the oration in full, as it is interesting and instructive from start to finish. Senator Swanson, working side by side with the deceased for years, had the opportunity of studying Senator Martin closely, and his observations will be read with interest. It will be printed in full in the Congressional Record and become a part of the archives of Virginia.

The speaker, thoroughly acquainted with the life of the deceased, graphically describes the manner in which he climbed from rung to rung of the public ladder until he reached the top, where there is always room for genius.

Mr. Swanson has painted a true picture of the, late senior Senator from Virginia, who now occupies his place in the constellation of the great men of the Old Dominion.

MEN'S BIBLE CLASS

Men's Bible Classes have become a prominent feature in many of the Sunday Schools of Richmond, says the Times-Dispatch. In some of them male adults between the ages of 21 and 75 have their names enrolled as students. On some the attendance every Sunday morning is larger than in any other department of the Sunday School work, and in the most of them the attendance has recently been growing.

The following shows the attendance last Sunday: Business Men's Bible Class, Second Baptist Church, 363; Tabernacle Baptist Church class, 351; Men's Class, Grace Methodist Episcopal Church, 140; F. T. Bates Bible Class, Union Station Methodist Church, 167; Men's Bible Class, Leigh Street Baptist Church, 132.

Most of the churches in Alexandria have organized men's Bible classes, and they are regarded as among the most important activities of the churches.

We never become too old to attend Sunday School, and men's Bible classes should receive the undivided attention of church members. A large percentage of adults whose inclinations are spiritual do not have the opportunity to search the scriptures, their daily occupations consuming too much of their time. Besides this class do not possess books requisite for such work. There are some persons in every congregation who make the Bible a study, and an interchange of thought for half an hour or more on Sunday morning is helpful to all.

When the Great Head of the Church was a 12 year old boy we read of Him appearing at a Bible class at the Temple in Jerusalem. All the members save Himself were doctors of the law, whose heads were doubtless whitened by the snows of many winters.

Attendance at Bible classes keeps the Book of Books fresh in our minds, without which our houses may be found resting upon sandy foundations.

MORE PUGHS WANTED

The House of Representatives has at least one act of sensible generosity to its credit says the Baltimore Sun. "It voted $10,000 the other day to John C. Pugh for "extra and expert services" which saved the country one million dollars. The way of it was this. Mr. Pugh, formerly a clerk to the Committee on Naval Affairs, but now working for the Committee on Appropriations, was asked by the Naval Committee to go over their bill and sift out duplications and unnecessary items. Some snake hunter is Mr. Pugh, for he discovered serpents in the bill that would have cost the Treasury a tenth of a billion. He worked at the job at night and on one occasion all night, and he certainly earned his bonus.

"Several questions arise. One is, isn't Pugh worth more to the country than the whole Naval Committee? Another is, if one expert clerk can save $100,000,000, how much could be saved by an intelligent budget system? A third is whether Pugh ought not to be put in a still bigger place. A fourth is, what a fine business Government we might have if every department had a Pugh in it. Let us have more Pughs and a few less preachers."

HUME HOME BURNED
(Published by Request)

Warwick, the home of Mr. Frank Hume and the late Frank Hume, was burned to the ground Wednesday, March 31, and only a memory is left of the large handsome old fashioned brick house with its porches and 16 out houses. The fire started in the woods of the adjoining farm and crept through the dried leaves of the wonderful old oak trees, crossing a large road until suddenly the care takers at Warwick heard a terrible roaring noise, and looking out saw the fine old barn in flames. The old hand made shingles of the barn becoming loosened by the fire, turned into tongues of flames and seemed only to glad to be assisted by a strong wind to fly to all the out buildings and to the house, which in spite of being brick immediately took fire.

Through the kindness of neighbors the family in Washington was notified and when they arrived nothing but smoke and fire greeted them. The Alexandria and Del Ray fire department assisted by neighbors succeeded in saving some of the furniture and most of the old portraits.

Warwick was built in the early part of eighteen hundred, and was one of the old land marks of that part of Virginia.

Mr. Hume remodeled the house about forty years ago, and it was a large double three story brick with slate Mausard roof, wide halls and large porches, and had twenty-five rooms and several baths, also electricity and telephone.

The place has always been noted for its beautiful view of the Potomac River and its superb old oak trees which have been badly burned, yet it hoped some may live. The place is partially covered by insurance but the collections of three or four generations of books, fixtures and old documents have been lost.

FRANCE HELD RESPONSIBLE
Note Handed Millerand Regarding Clash in Frankfort

Paris, April 10.—Dr. von Mayer, the German Charge d'Affaires, has handed to Premier Millerand a note from the German Government declaring that Germany will hold France responsible for the consequences of violent incidents in Frankfort.

The note declares that the sending of German troops in to the Ruhr was not an act inherited from the Kapp dictatorship.

The note quotes the instructions sent by Foreign Undersecretary von Haniel to Dr. von Mayer, asking him to make it plain that the request for permission to send troops into Ruhr emanated from the constitutional government.

On April 5, the note asserts, there were 48,000 German soldiers, and not 160,000, in Ruhr. The note also says that the rebels in the Ruhr region opposed serious resistance, but that the Reichswehr forces made use of its strength.

If you suffer with kidney backache, urinary disorders, or any form of kidney trouble, the advice contained in the following statement should add a valuable asset to your store of knowledge. What could be more convincing proof of the efficiency of Doan's Kidney Pills than the statement of a Alexandria citizen who used them and who publicly tells of the benefit derived?

Guy Pettit, railroad engineer, 114 Commerce St., Alexandria, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills off and on for a number of years and they have done me so much good I wouldn't be without them. I usually carry a box of Doan's with me because my kidneys are apt to get out of order. This is from the jarring of the engine. However I only have to use a few of Doan's Kidney Pills and I am not bothered any more."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Pettit had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

ARREST FOR THEFT OF GEMS

James E. Foye Faces Charge of Stealing Precious Stones

New York, April 10.—James E. Foye, aged 42, a former room clerk at the Biltmore Hotel, was arrested yesterday charged with being implicated in the theft of $300,000 worth of jewels from Mrs. Clarence Millhiser widow of a millionaire manufacturer, formerly of Richmond, Va.

The jewels were stolen from Mrs. Millhiser's safe deposit box in the vault of the hotel between May 20 last, the day of her husband's death, and June 13.

Foye was arrested after leaving a jeweler's shop near Times Square. It is alleged that he had accepted $20,000 by previous arrangement for nine pearls that are alleged to have been in a necklace of Mrs. Millhiser's. The police had been notified by the jeweler, who had recognized the pearls allaged to have been submitted by Foye as meeting the description of pearls stolen from Mrs. Millhiser.

The detectives who arrested Foye said that he tore a slip of paper to pieces. It is being reassembled in the hope that it will lead to the disclosure of the whereabouts of the remainder of the stolen jewels.

MINERS' LEADERS JAILED

Howat and Three Others Ignore Industrial Relations Court Order

Pittsburg, Kans., April 10.—Alexander Howat, president of the Kansas coal miners, was sentenced to jail for contempt of court by Judge Andrew J. Curran, of the Crawford county district court yesterday.

The judge sentenced Howat and three associate union officials to jail until such time as they will testify before the Kansas court of industrial relations. Howat and the other officials will be taken to jail at Girard.

Howat was found guilty of contempt for refusing to obey an order of Judge Curran, issued Tuesday, that he appear with four other district officers of the United Mine Workers of America and testify in the investigation of the coal mining industry now being conducted by the Kansas court of industrial relations here.

In addition to Howat, Judge Curran found August Dorchy, vice president; Thomas Harvey, secretary-treasurer, and Robert Foster, district auditor, guilty and gave them the same sentence he gave Howat.

Howat made this statement:

"Our position is unchanged. We stand where we stood. We refuse to testify before this court because we do not recognize the court. It is an institution founded to enslave the workingman."

Jordan, for two consecutive years, has been given this honor by athletic officers of the Navy and his shipmates. He is a boxer, wrestler, shotputter, baseball and football player, tennis and handball expert, pushball player, runner, boat racer, swimmer, and he does all these better than any other man in the Navy.

V-C Plant Food applied to your vegetable garden will mean big yields from little space—makes vines produce more heavily—insures a supply of fresh vegetables for home use and for canning.

Flowers Shrubs Lawns Gardens Are Helped By V-C Plant Food

Like human beings, plants need food—three kinds of it. First, Nitrogen to give a start and quick growth of good, green foliage. Then, Phosphoric Acid and Potash with which the plants build their stems and blossoms.

V-C Plant Food supplies all three kinds in the right proportions Use it and thus give your shrubs rich green color, evidence of an even healthy growth—flower beds become more gorgeous and colorful—plants in pots and window boxes bloom better—the vegetable garden yields surprise you.

It is not necessary to have a rich soil to start with. V-C Plant Food is richer than any soil Nature ever created. It is just like putting the richest earth on top of your garden and on the soil around your flowers.

The Nitrogen in a 25-lb. bag equals in producing power the Nitrogen in 1,500 pounds of manure. V-C Plant Food is many times richer in Phosphoric Acid and many times richer in Potash.

V-C Plant Food comes in handy packages—easy to handle—sanitary—easy to apply.

New Plant Food must be added each year; last year's flowers used up a large part of the fertility. Spading up the earth with a trowel, pulverizing it, mixing V-C Plant Food in thoroughly and then packing firmly, will make the kind of soil which flowers like.

VIRGINIA NEWS

Claims of Virginia against the United States amounting approximately to $26,000 for the mobilization of troops for the Mexican border and the world war, have been ordered to be presented to the proper authorities at the meeting of the Military Board of Virginia, held in the office of Adjutant General Jo Lane Stern. This board is composed of General Stern, Colonel William H. Gill, Major Joseph LeMasurier, and Governor Westmoreland Davis. General Stern stated that $14,600 had been spent in the mobilization of troops for the Mexican border, and $11,400 for the mobilization of troops in the world war.

The city of Richmond has filed notice of appeal from the decision of the corporation commission assuming jurisdiction in the matter of the petition of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company for an increase of rates. Appeal will be taken to the Virginia supreme court. The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company is operating in Richmond under a charter granted by the city in which the rates and character of service to be rendered are specified. The city raised the point that the commission was without jurisdiction to consider an altercaton in the existing franchise with the telephone company, and that the matter of rates were fixed by the contract. The commission held otherwise, however, and proceeded with its investigation, though no decision as to rates has yet been announced.

The recent census showed Staunton's population to be 10,617, an increase of thirteen people in the past ten years.

TERRIBLY SWOLLEN

Suffering Described as Torture Re-

Rossville, Ga—Mrs. Kate Lee Able, of this place, writes: "My husband is heavy machinery, across the abdomen. He was so sore he could not bear to press on himself at all, on chest or abdomen. He weighed 165 lbs., and fell off until he weighed 110 lbs., in two weeks.

He became constipated and it looked like he would die. We had three different doctors, yet with all their medicine, his bowels failed to act. He would catch me, and I got so I castor oil, and drink it two or three days in succession. He did this yet without result. We became desperate, he suffered so. He was swollen terribly. He told me his suffering could only be decribed as torture.

I sent and bought Theford's Black-Draught. I made isim take a big dose, and when it began to act he fainted, he was in such misery, but he got relief and began to mend at once. He got well, and we both feel he owes his life to Theford's Black-Draught."

be fatal, yet he neither quailed nor quivered when brought face to face with death.

In his last hours he forcibly reminded me of the noblest of Roman senators, calmly gathering his robes around him and fearlessly meeting inevitable death, which awaits us all He entertained no apprehensions of the great future beyond.

Senator Martin possessed in a preeminent degree those domestic virtus and that honorable moral character which are so highly cherished in Virginia and which she scrupuolously requires of her public men. He was pure in mind, in thought, and in conduct. No stain ever followed his footsteps. No suggestion of scandal, public or private ever besmirchd his fair name. He was the soul of generosity and libral honorable dealing. Like Virginians the ties of blood and relationship were strong and enduring. His personal life was one of service and sacrifice for others.

One of the crying needs of the world today is more statesmanship founded in rugged moral character, capable of squarely meeting the difficult problems confronting us and dealing with them with firm hand and resolute will. We need today brave, unflinching Catos, fearlessly facing troubles, more than eloquent Ciceros, glozing over evils and lulling us with pleasing platitudes and alluring prophecies. The world seems to acquire each year more exquisite flowers, but possesses less rugged oaks for refuge in hours of storm and stress.

On account of the fierce political contests, Senator Martin was continuously engaged in no man ever lived core completely than he in the pitiless light of publicity. Enmity and jealousy engaged in every exaggeration of criticism and faultfinding, yet during his long public service each receding year brought him increased confidence, enlarged influence, and greater popularity. Five successive times did the people of Virginia emphasize their trust and affection for him by commissioning him to represent them in this august assembly, the highest honor at their disposal. The last time he had no opposition in the Democratic primary, none in the general election. He was the unanimous choice of the Virginia people. His manly worth, his genuine merit, his sturdy character, his valuable and patriotic service had so deeply impressed the people of Virginia that with one accord they demanded he should represent them in these troubulous and perilous times.

The heavy burdens and weighty responsibilities imposed upon Senator Martin by the important position held by him durng the war were greater than his strength could bear His unceasing work, day and night, without rest or recreation, the continucus pressure upon him as leader of the majority and the anxieties and responsibilities incident to the position undermined his health and left hm at the conclusion of the war a physical wreck. Despite the solemn warning his physicians gave him that unless he desisted from his strenuous life fatal results might ensue, and the constant solicitations of his friends not to destroy his health, he firmly refused in the critical time of the war to abandon his post of duty, and thus unselfishly and patriotically sacrificed his life to public service.

It is by the lives and sacrifice of such men as Senator Martin that states and nations progress along correct lines and are made strong and great.

A poet has well expressed it;

What builds a nation's pillars high
And makes it great and strong?
What makes it mighty to defy
The foes that 'round it throng?
Not gold, but only men can make
A nation great and strong;
Men who for truth and honor's sake
Hold still and suffer long.
Brave men who work while others sleep,
Who dare when others sigh;
They build a nation's pillars deep
And lift it to the sky.

OLD AND NEW UNIONS

Chicago, April 10.—The railroad brotherhoods claimed last night they had won their fight against dissenting members and that the backbone of the railroad strike had been broken in Chicago. Leaders of the radical groups were unwilling to admit defeat. They said while the brotherhoods had succeeded in winning back a few men in Chicago the strike had swept throughout the country.

A plea of representatives of the big brotherhoods to railroad managers for more time to break the strike was the outstanding feature of yesterday's developments. The brotherhoods made their representations to J. W. Higgins, executive secretary of the Western Railroad Managers Association.

According to Higgins the brotherhoods continue to bring in local union men to break the strike.

That the strike was aimed against the brotherhoods as much as against the railroads was indicated by a statement of John Grunau, president of the Chicago Yardmen's Association.

"The fight has become one of supremacy between the new and the old unions" he said. "The question of increased pay has ceased to be a big factor in the strike."

That the new union was striving for recognition from the railroads was shown yesterday when a committee of dissenters called on the Railroad Managers' Association and asked it to enter negotiations for settlement of the strike.

The railroads continue to refuse to take the leading part in breaking the strike. They put to work such union men as the brotherhoods could supply. No effort was made to employ non-union workers.

Federal officials approached the situation with caution. Mediators made no effort to interfere. It was indicated they would give the old time brotherhoods ample time to bring their men back in line.

ABANDONED GOODS CRIME

Richmond, April 10.—Removing material or supplies abandoned at a camp site does not constitute the offense of applying government property to one's personal use, is the substance of an opinion handed down yesterday by Judge Pritchard in the United States circuit court of appeals in the case of Perry Edwards, convicted in the South Carolina district court of removing a quantity of baled hay from a shed at the former site of Camp Sevier. The judgment of the lower court was reversed.

Edwards, a prosperous farmer, lived on land adjoining Camp Sevier, and owned a part of the land on which the camp was situated, having leased it to the government. On this leased land was an open shed in which a few bales of hay were left on the withdrawal of the troops and the abandonment of the camp in March, 1919. Following closing of the camp, and the public announcement of its abandonment, Edwards, one afternoon some weeks later, was driving along the road by the shed when he stopped and loaded the hay on his wagon. At this point a guard came up from behind the shed and asked him about taking the hap. He stated he thought the hay had been abandoned, and offered to return it. The arrest and indictment followed.

Some folks don't get all the wear worth out of a suit that is possible in the opinion of Dainty Dorothy. There are some men and women of her acquaintance she says are very neglectful when it comes to taking an inventory of their wardrobes.

She believes that our cleaning and dyeing is one of the biggest home savings helps ever established. You'll be inclined to agree with her after you investigate our worth.

THE WORK OF A STORM

In maintaining an always-ready service one of the problems is keeping pole lines in condition in the face of storms.

Not long ago in 27 miles of line 33 poles were overthrown. Reconstruction was started immediately, but meanwhile at least one town along that line was left with crippled service.

If your line is out of order after a storm, have confidence that the telephone company is bending every effort to restore it—for our own interests as well as yours.

EXAMINE OUR GRADES
WHEN CONSIDERING PRICES:

With prices on Lumber and other Building Materials at their present levels, there are many items in the lower grades which can often be substituted satisfactorily and at a considerable saving.

We have become so much impressed with the possibilities of doing this to advantage that we are exercising the greatest care in buying only from those mills who pay the closest attention to the manufacture and grading of their lower priced stocks.

We ask our customers to examine these grades when buying as we believe they will find some excellent values, and a knowledge of what a carefully selected lower grade really is will often prevent the buying of a so-called higher grade at a little under the market price for the high grade, when it is actually a lower grade and can be bought as such.

Strikers to Make Tie Up Complete

that can give them specific reasons for the strike and formulate demands.

An embargo was placed yesterday on all foodstuffs, and the menace of a food famine quickly became apparent. Prices began to soar.

It appeared certain that the strikers, deprived of the leadership of their national organizations, would drift into alliance with the port and harbor workers, who have been on strike for several weeks. Because of the dependence of New York City on river transport from the Jersey terminals, the strike of the yardmen, coming on top of that of the harbor boatmen, has operated to deprive the city at once of all receipt of perishable foodstuffs.

Women Say Hubbies Now Shoot Crap for Pastime

Hazelton, Pa., April 10.—Managers of large corporations here reported yesterday receiving numerous appeals from wives of employees who alleged that their husbands, sons and brothers, are spending so much money gambling, that their families suffer for food, clothing and coal. They claim such conditions did not exist prior to the elimination of liquor. Cards and crap are said to be the chief diversions of the gamblers. An appeal is planned to the authorities to break up the practice.

REFUSES TO BACK STRIKERS

Cleveland, O., April 12.—A signed statement was issued here last night by the chiefs of the four big railroad brotherhoods. It says:

"The present strike of men engaged in switching service was originated in Chicago by a new organiation that has for its purpose the destruction of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, and the switchmen's Union, and in its inception had nothing to do with the wage question.

"After the strike was instituted to reinstate a worker, the leaders of the new organization then injected the wage question for the sole purpose of deceiving the yardmen, throughout the United States and promote the "one big union idea. There can be no settlement of pending wage questions while this illegal action continues. We insist that every member of these brotherhoods do everything within power to preserve their existing contracts, which if abrogated may take years to rebuild. The laws of all of these organizations provide penalties for members engaged in illegal strikes and these penalties will be enforced."

That kind of man will not be told anything, they would rather die taking Pink Pills or similar stuff than investigate Chiropractic and be cured—You better look it up—later may be too late. Ford
THE UNIVERSAL CAR

Sixteen Years Experience

For sixteen years, a corps of metallurgists have been studying and constantly perfecting the steel that goes into every part of the Ford car and the Ford One Ton Truck. Each separate part has been studied to learn the type of steel best fitted for it. Parts receiving constant surface-wear are made of hard, flint-like metal; parts subjected to great vibration or resilience are made of softer, springy steel. Every part is made according to its use—that is, every Genuine Ford part is.

But there are also counterfeit "Ford" parts. These imitations are made by concerns in no way connected with the Ford Motor Company and retailed as sidelines by mail-order houses, downtown stores, and many garages. The unsuspecting customer accepts them because they are called "Ford" parts. To make sure of getting the genuine Ford-made parts, buy them only from Authorized Ford Dealers. Likewise bring or take your Ford car to our garage for repairs, replacements, and general "tuning up."

We are Authorized Ford Dealers. We can supply you with all Ford parts for either passenger car or truck. And our shop is equipped to give real Ford service in all repair work.
